AIM Online Research Class ($2,000 Student Fee) :

- AIM research curriculum and student activities provided in the Canvas learning management system, including the mobile app.
- Students will complete the online lessons, participate in virtual classroom activities, and engage in one-on-one communication to assist them as they develop their research project.
- Lessons directly tie to students' personal research projects. This use-inspired research opportunity increases the relevance to the student.
- An interdisciplinary approach incorporates multiple subjects into student-specific, project-based learning.
- The Science Coach provides:
 - Support for research topics
 - Assistance with research design
 - Help with technical questions
 - Weekly virtual meetings
 - Oversight of student progress with support from the parent/adult in charge.
- Students will have access to a database of professional mentors. With teacher support, students are responsible for pursuing mentor connections.
- Biology science lab access is available in the St. Louis area (a full list of available equipment is provided upon request). Additional lab access is possible through an acquired mentor.
- Students receive a formal completion certificate at the end of the course. (This is currently a dual enrollment course. No grade or credit will apply to your high school transcript, but you can choose to receive college credit for an additional fee directly with the college.)

A non-refundable deposit of $300 is due with this application. Check is made payable to Science Coach Inc., or make your online payment HERE. This is not a dual credit or enrollment class. No high school credit will be awarded. A certificate of completion will be awarded at the end of the course. Final payment is due before July 1. An invoice will be sent for the remaining amount due. Classes begin the 3rd week of August. Mail the completed application and payment to: Science Coach, Inc., 4340 Duncan Avenue, Suite 100, St. Louis, MO 63110, or pay electronically with the link above.
